

The airwaves and all media should not be concentrated in the hands of a few corporations. There has to be diversity of information from as many sources as are available; both large and small TV Stations, radio stations and newspapers. This makes for intelligent decisions by an informed public. 2 or 3 corporation should not determine what the people should know. Our democracy thrives on diverse opinions and debate and an informed public makes for wise decisions.